

Nat'l security students engage with intelligence agencies in D.C.

March 28, 2016

Posted by Federal Relations

Flying a cohort of students up to Washington, D.C. to meet with various U.S. intelligence agencies every year, The Gordon Institute's National Security Certificate program offers students an immersive governmental career development experience.

This year, 17 students toured a record seven agencies, including the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA), the National Security Agency (NSA), the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI), the National Counterterrorism Center (NCTC), the National Security Council (NSC), and the Department of Treasury. Students were also invited to the Inter-American Defense College—an international educational institution operating under the aegis and funding of the Organization of American States (OAS) and the Inter-American Defense Board.

Continue reading at FIU News